4. School Construction: The 21st Century Green High-Performing Public School Facilities Act (H.R. 2187) authorizes $6.4 billion for school construction projects in fiscal year 2010, requiring that a certain percentage be used for construction that meets environmental or energy efficiency standards. The bill also authorizes $600 million in fiscal years 2010 through 2015 for the repair of public schools damaged by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, applies Davis-Bacon prevailing wage requirements to authorized projects, and bars states from taking into account funds authorized under the bill when determining a school's eligibility for other aid. The bill passed 275-155 on May 14, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

5. Student Loan Overhaul: The Student Aid and Fiscal Responsibility Act (SAFRA) eliminated the Federal Family Education Loan Program and redirected savings into the hands of the neediest students and their families by increasing the purchasing power of the Pell Grant. The bill also included a role for nonprofit state agencies to service student loans and provide financial literacy for students; provisions to address the issue of academic staffing by including faculty representation in two of the grant processes; and made a direct investment of funds to help repair and modernize community college facilities. SAFRA passed the House 253-171 on Sept. 17, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

6. Affordable Health Care for America Act: This bill would overhaul the nation's health insurance system and require most individuals to buy health insurance by 2013. It included a government-run public health insurance option to allow individuals without coverage to purchase insurance. Employers would be required to offer health insurance to employees or be subject to a penalty tax. It also would bar insurance companies from denying or reducing coverage based on pre-existing medical conditions. The bill passed 220-215 on Nov. 7, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

7. Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act: On March 21, 2010, the House passed H.R. 4872, the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act, by a vote of 220-211. The president signed this bill into law on March 30. The law moves the nation toward the goal of affordable, high-quality healthcare for all Americans by allowing over 30 million more Americans to receive healthcare coverage. Seniors will be able to purchase affordable medications because the legislation eliminates the "doughnut hole” in coverage under the Medicare prescription drug program by 2020. And insurance companies will not be able to deny benefits because of pre-existing conditions or cancel policies because of illness. In addition, the bill mitigates (but does not permanently eliminate) the excise tax on benefits and delays its start until 2018. Unfortunately the final bill does not contain a “public option” strongly supported by the AFT. H.R. 4872 also includes provisions to modify the student aid program to make higher education more accessible and affordable for students and their families. A yes vote is a right vote.

8. Tax Extensions Motion to Concur: On May 28, 2010, the House considered the American Jobs and Closing Tax Loopholes Act of 2010, a bill to create and protect jobs by providing an extension in unemployment benefits to Americans struggling to find work. The bill also provided fiscal relief to overburdened state governments, including $27 billion in temporary Federal Medical Assistance Percentages (FMAP). In addition, the bill included tax deductions for college tuition and deductions for classroom supplies purchased by educators. The bill passed 215-204 on May 28, 2010. A yes vote is a right vote.

9. Supplemental Appropriations for Educator Jobs and Pell Grants: Rep. David Obey (D-Wis.) offered an amendment that included $10 billion to save educator jobs and $5 billion for Pell Grants as part of the FY 2010 defense supplemental appropriations bill. With Recovery Act funds winding down and state and local budgets still facing massive deficits, the $10 billion in assistance would address the predicted loss of as many as 300,000 educators’ jobs. The $5 billion for Pell Grants would cover the current funding shortfall for the program. The amendment passed by a 239-182 vote on July 1, 2010. A yes vote is a right vote.

10. Education Jobs and Medicaid Assistance (Final Passage): Upon Senate passage of H.R. 1586 on Aug. 5, 2010, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi called the House back into session for a vote on this important bill. H.R. 1586 provides $10 billion to save education jobs and $16 billion in additional Medicaid assistance. Without this funding, students in the fall would face larger class sizes, shortened school days and weeks, cuts in classes and programs, and fewer teachers. The House approved H.R. 1586 by a vote of 247-161 on Aug. 10, 2010. The president signed this bill into law on the same day. A yes vote is a right vote.

SENATE VOTES

1. Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act: The Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act (S. 181) restores long-standing protections against pay discrimination that were eliminated in the 2007 Ledbetter v. Goodyear Tire & Rubber decision. Lilly Ledbetter, a Goodyear employee, did not realize until she had retired that she was being paid less than her male counterparts. The bill amended the 1964 Civil Rights Act to clarify time limits for workers to file employment discrimination lawsuits; it passed the Senate 61-36 on Jan. 22, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

2. Economic Stimulus Passage: Passage of this bill was the Obama administration's first priority. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) provided approximately $838 billion for spending and tax cuts to stimulate the economy, including a provision to exempt additional taxpayers from the alternative minimum tax in 2009. It provided funds for a State Fiscal Stabilization Fund that helped prevent job loss in education and other programs, and temporarily increased federal Medicaid matching payments for states by an estimated $87 billion. The Senate passed the stimulus package by a 61-37 vote on Feb. 10, 2009; the bill was signed into law Feb. 17, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

3. Economic Stimulus Conference Report: The final version of the economic stimulus bill as agreed to by a House and Senate conference committee provided $787 billion in tax cuts and spending increases to stimulate the economy. This included the State Fiscal Stabilization Fund and increases for Title I, IDEA, higher education and other crucial education programs. The final package also included significant additional funding for Federal Medical Assistance Percentages (FMAP). Although the money was a lifeline that has helped preserve hundreds of thousands of jobs during the recession, the bill also created several discretionary programs to be administered by the Department of Education, including Race to the Top and School Improvement Grants, about which the AFT had concerns. The Senate passed the conference report on Feb. 13, 2009, by a vote of 60-38, and the bill was signed into law Feb. 17, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

4. Fiscal 2010 Budget Resolution Conference Report: Adoption of the conference report on the concurrent resolution that would allow up to $1 trillion in non-emergency discretionary spending for fiscal year 2010, plus $130 billion in fiscal 2010 for operations in Iraq and Afghanistan. The resolution allows modest increases in funding to education, job training, and health and safety programs. It also includes an extension of the 2001 and 2003 tax cuts for households earning less than $250,000 annually. The resolution was adopted by a 53-43 vote on April 29, 2009. A yes vote is a right vote.

5. Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act: This was a vote to invoke cloture (60 votes [three-fifths of the total Senate] are required to invoke cloture and thus end debate) on a motion to proceed to consideration of H.R. 3590, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. The bill would expand coverage to 30 million Americans, put new rules on insurance companies and provide subsidies to help middle- and low-income families and small business to purchase coverage through market exchanges. Although the legislation fell short in several critical areas—including lack of a public option and a new tax on benefits—allowing debate to proceed was a critical step in the process to enact healthcare reform. (A subsequent reconciliation bill was signed into law in March 2010. It strengthened the “fair share” for business requirements and significantly reduced the tax on benefits.) On Nov. 21, 2009, the Senate voted to end the filibuster and move to consideration of the bill by a vote of 60-39. A yes vote is a right vote.

6. Private School Vouchers: Sen. Joseph Lieberman (I-Conn.) offered a private school voucher amendment to H.R. 1486, a bill dealing with the Federal Aviation Administration. The amendment would have reauthorized the expired Washington, D.C., private school voucher program despite several federal reports that documented problems with the program for new students and its lack of effectiveness. The Senate rejected the Lieberman voucher amendment on March 16, 2010, by a vote of 42-55. A no vote was a right vote.

7. Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act: On March 25, 2010, the Senate passed H.R. 4872, the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act, by a vote of 56-43. The president signed this bill into law on March 30, 2010. The law moves the nation toward the goal of affordable, high-quality healthcare for all Americans by allowing over 30 million more Americans to receive healthcare coverage. The legislation eliminates the “doughnut hole” in coverage under the Medicare prescription drug program by 2020, and it prevents insurance companies from denying benefits because of pre-existing conditions or canceling policies because of illness. In addition, the bill mitigates (but does not permanently eliminate) the excise tax on benefits and delays its start until 2018. Unfortunately the final bill does not contain a “public option” strongly supported by the AFT. H.R. 4872 also includes provisions to modify the student aid program to make higher education more accessible and affordable for students and their families. A yes vote is a right vote.

8. FY 2010 Supplemental Appropriations for Education Jobs and Pell Grants: This was a vote to invoke cloture (60 votes [three-fifths of the total Senate] are required to invoke cloture and thus end debate) on the motion to proceed to consideration of the House-passed 2010 supplemental appropriations bill (H.R. 4899). The House bill, among other things, included $10 billion for educator jobs and nearly $5 billion for the Pell Grant program. The $5 billion for Pell Grants sought to cover the current funding shortfall for the program. Motion to proceed was defeated by a vote of 46-51 on July 22, 2010. A yes vote is a right vote.

9. Education Jobs and Medicaid Assistance (Final Passage): This vote was a motion to concur with a House amendment to H.R. 1586. The legislation provides $10 billion to save education jobs and $16 billion in additional Medicaid assistance. Without this funding, students in the fall would face larger class sizes, shortened school days and weeks, cuts in classes and programs, and fewer teachers. Every member of the Senate Democratic Caucus and two Republicans voted for this bill, and it was approved by a vote of 61-39 on Aug. 5, 2010. A yes vote is a right vote.
