AFT members belong to a community of colleagues.

We understand the power of joining together—in our work, in our communities and in the marketplace. At the AFT, we have our own marketplace—AFT + Member Benefits—which combines the purchasing power of the AFT’s 1.7 million members with the benefit offerings of Union Plus, the AFL-CIO’s benefit arm. This gives you a rich array of discounts, services and benefits that go beyond the workplace. Many of these programs are available to family members, too.

In the last few years, we have added new benefits that meet the moment, such as free trauma counseling to support recovery from personal and workplace challenges and Summer to minimize student loan repayments.

Whether for everyday necessities or splurges, check the AFT + Member Benefits offerings.
Why organize with the AFT? Why belong to the AFT?

The AFT is the home of the people who make a difference in other people’s lives: 1.7 million educators and support personnel, healthcare workers and public employees fighting and caring about what kids and communities need. Showing up when it counts. Taking on the extremists who want to destroy public education, dismantle our democracy, defund public services, demonize the vulnerable—and the privatizers who are more concerned about healthcare profits than patients.

So if you want respect on the job, a voice in our democracy or simply better pay, then join a union. That’s our job—fighting for a better life for all. If you want the respect and resources to do your chosen work and your best work in a safe and welcoming environment, join the AFT. If you want to protect your professionalism and the future of your profession, join the AFT. If you want to fight for the good of our students, patients and communities, join the AFT. And if you want to defend our democracy and ensure everyone has the freedom to thrive, join the AFT.

COMMUNITY BENEFITS

We’re meeting the needs of our communities, our students and our members through education and community approaches to improving lives.

Reading Opens the World
aft.org/read

Reading is a foundational skill necessary for virtually everything we do. It opens possibilities for all children to succeed—to learn and grow, to explore and imagine, to investigate and verify, and to lead fulfilling lives. Reading well instills confidence and helps reduce inequities. The AFT’s Reading Opens the World is a multiyear campaign to give 2 million books to children and educators in marginalized communities, to offer parents and caregivers fun and research-based tips for boosting literacy, to spread the joy of reading, and to ensure teachers and school staff have tools and professional development that translate the science of reading into usable resources to help students read and read well.

First Book
firstbook.org

Together, the AFT and First Book have partnered to distribute more than 7.5 million books to classrooms and programs serving students and families in need and have connected thousands of educators and staff to ongoing resources. Through our partnership, we support children’s well-being with access to new high-quality books as well as school supplies and basic-needs items at 50 to 90 percent off retail costs (and in some cases for free). We also help build teacher and school staff capacity by highlighting new and diverse authors and books, along with tip sheets and suggested activities.

Community Schools Strategy

Community Schools Strategy
aft.org/position/community-schools

The community schools strategy transforms public schools into the centers of their communities. It helps public schools weave together community partners to support students and their families; creates an environment where everyone has a voice; and is a collaborative and effective vehicle for increasing educational equity, social cohesion and civic participation. Community schools purposefully partner with food banks, social service agencies, businesses, higher education institutions, health clinics and youth organizations, typically under the guidance of a site coordinator. By meeting those needs, community schools make it possible for educators to do what they do best, which is to teach, and for students to learn and reach their full potential. The AFT has consistently advocated for the community schools strategy and, in collaboration with other national partners, has supported our local affiliates in designing and implementing community schools. We have supported dozens of locals in working with their districts and communities in creating nearly 900 schools, with a goal of expanding to 2,500 over the next four years.

Career and Technical Education
aft.org/position/career-and-technical-education

Career and technical education (CTE) is a key strategy to reengage students in deep and fun learning that can help educators overcome pandemic-induced learning loss. It’s also a key strategy to prepare youth for tomorrow’s economy, which will offer well-paying, safe and sustainable jobs thanks in large part to investments by the Biden administration and the previous Congress. The AFT is working closely with federal agencies to ensure that CTE is seen as the pipeline for preparing a workforce with the flexible skills that today’s economy is clamoring for. More districts are offering high-quality pathways in areas of high demand, such as cybersecurity, welding, healthcare, microelectronics manufacturing and robotics, to name just a few. The AFT is also working to ensure that our members and communities know about sources of funding for CTE programs and has provided mini grants that address everything from career exploration and covering equipment costs to connecting high school and college pathways.

AFT members belong to a community of colleagues. We understand the power of joining together—in our work, in our communities and in the marketplace. At the AFT, we have our own marketplace—AFT + Member Benefits—which combines the purchasing power of the AFT’s 1.7 million members with the benefit offerings of Union Plus, the AFL-CIO’s benefit arm. This gives you a rich array of discounts, services and benefits that go beyond the workplace. Many of these programs are available to family members, too.

In the last few years, we have added new benefits that meet the moment, such as free trauma counseling to support recovery from personal and workplace challenges and Summer to minimize student loan repayments.
